Corval Group Continues Exceptional Safety Performance

*Company Reaches Six Million Hours
Worked With No Lost Time Injuries*

ST. PAUL, MN, January 11th, 2016 - Corval Group is pleased to announce that it has accomplished more than 6,000,000 hours worked without a lost time injury. Our continued efforts of enforcing our company goals, policies, procedures and vision of "No One Gets Hurt" has allowed Corval Group to reach this achievement. The company's last lost workday occurred in 2008.

According to Corval's CEO, Paul Jordan, "We are excited and proud of this milestone but we are only able to reach these milestones by safely delivering projects, maintenance and service to our customers. We give a special thank you to all of our customers for your work and understanding the value that safety brings to every aspect of our industry. "

Corval has reached these milestones by implementing multiple online tools for efficient and effective access to safety information. For example: MSDS Online gives us instant access to Safety Data Sheets and Online Site Safety Planning allows us to identify hazards prior to performing work.

By recognizing the importance of safety in the workplace and emphasizing personal safety in every work location, Corval remains in the top of its class. Corval Group will continue to strive for world class safety on job sites, in the office and at home, through the vision "No One Gets Hurt."
