

MOVING FORWARD 2020

Corval is committed to the safety and well-being of our employees, our clients, and our trade partners. We are monitoring the COVID-19 outbreak and continue to adapt with this commitment in mind.

In these extraordinary times, Corval offers you our support to continue your business operations, whether your teams are on site or working remotely.

In our facilities and on our job sites, we are following containment guidelines from the World Health Organization (WHO), the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and local health departments.

Our work practices have adapted to include regular preventative measures, navigating possible COVID-19 exposure at client sites, and increased communication with our customers on any jobsite developments. We tailor our on-site activities to our clients' protocols, always adopting the more stringent measures.

We're all facing uncertainties in this rapidly changing environment but you can be certain that Corval is here for you, operating with health and safety as our top priority as we continue to build confidence.

Paul C. Jordan, CEO